Army Not Large Enough for Ordinary Peace Needs Is the Statement of the President

Woodrow Wilson Given Ovation in Chicago Where He Tells Citizens of Lake City of Our Unpreparedness.

SAYS NAVY IS IN FAIR SHAPE AT PRESENT

"We Are a Body of Idealists Much More Ready to Lay Down Our Lives for a Thought Than a Dollar."

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—"We have been given in the present fleet of the United States an organization such as it never had before, I am told by Admiral Fletcher," said the president in his preparedness address here. "We made preparations for immediate war, so far as the navy is concerned. The army, a sat present constituted, is not large enough even for ordinary duties in time of peace."

The president repeated the warnings that no time must be lost in strengthening the defenses of the nation. He declared the government is doing everything it could for preparedness.

"When I see my fellow citizen spread tinder where sparks are falling, I wonder what their ideal Americanism is," he said. The warning nations had cruelly misjudged America, he said. "They do not feel the conviction of America that our mission is peace, and that righteousness cannot be maintained as a standard in the midst of arms," he said.

Continuing the president said: "They do not realize that back of all our energy we are a body of idealists much more ready to lay down our lives for a thought than for a dollar. They suppose, some of them, that we are holding off, because we can make money while they are dying—the most cruel misunderstanding a nation ever had to face, so wrong that it seems almost useless to try to correct it because it shows the very fundamentals of our life are not comprehended or understood." The rulers, and not public opinion precipitated the present war, the president declared.

"Thank God there is no man in the United States who has the authority to bring on war without the consent of the nation," he said. "The task of the United States has been to assert the principles of law in the world in which the principles of law were broken down. We were not thinking of an invasion of the territory of the United States. That is not what is making us think."

"We are asking ourselves shall we be prepared only to defend our own homes, shores. Is that all we stand for? To keep the door shut securely against our enemies? What about the greatest trustfulness set up for the liberty of the national government in whole Western Hemisphere. We stand pledged to see that both continents of America are left free to be used by their people as they choose to use them under the system of national popular sovereignty as absolutely unchallenged as our own."

The president arrived at Chicago from Milwaukee at six o'clock. He was driven to a hotel. Later he went to the auditorium, which was a riot of red, white and blue. The back of the stage was set as an American coat of arms, the main floor, galleries were white with faces. Many vainly sought to obtain tickets. Twelve hundred police held in check on the sidewalk the throngs, clearing the streets entirely of traffic between the hotel and the auditorium. The entrance of the president was heralded by the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner." The crowd stood and applauded. Mrs. Wilson occupied a box.

SPEAKS IN MILWAUKEE.
MILWAUKEE, Jan. 31.—Speaking before a large audience today, the president declared the men who say Americans will not stand together in time of trouble "have shot their bolt." "I have not supposed the men whose voices seemed to show the threat against us represented even the people they claim to represent." Many in the audience were of foreign birth. The president declared he knew the men who came from foreign lands loved liberty and would stand by the ideals in America.

Chief Justice Angellotti announced the decision of the court, which agreed without leaving the bench.

ROUND-UP NETS SHERIFF MUCH WHISKEY

Three Men Arrested by Sheriff and Deputy at and Near Douglas. One Already Had Charge Pending.

TOMBSTONE, Jan. 31.—(Special)—Sheriff Wheeler and Deputy Percy Bowden returned this morning from a trip to Douglas and along the Borderland Route east of Douglas in the vicinity of Chiricahua and Bernardino, where they went in search of bootleggers. They were successful in capturing three men and were the means of stopping several shipments of liquor they were scheduled to arrive in there Saturday night.

The first man to fall in their clutches was G. W. Stone, who was in a wagon and had about thirty cases in the bed of the vehicle as well as five gallons of alcohol which was to have been used in the manufacture of bootleg in Douglas. Stone had the bottles in the wagon having taken them out of the cases. As soon as his officers took Stone to Douglas they returned to Bernardino and while going through the mud they ran across Any Johnson and William Murray, of Bisbee. In a Studebaker car in which were about twenty cases that had also been taken out of the cases. They took them to Douglas where they were both given examinations and held under $1,000 bond each. Last night Sheriff Wheeler caught P. E. Burke as he stepped off the Golden State Limited with two suit cases filled with whiskey. Both Burke and Stone will enter pleas of guilty and will soon be added to the road gang.

The officers bring stories of other dealings of the bootleggers. M. A. Patterson, who formerly ran the saloon at Rodeo, a few days ago, sent out a man with a wagon to bring in a shipment. The man secured the shipment and started back with it but decided that he might make more out of it if he ditched the whiskey and told that it had been taken from him. He went back to Douglas and informed Patterson that two deputy sheriffs had taken the whiskey away from him. Patterson started out to investigate and then the man admitted that he had ditched the whiskey. When they went to find it, however, the whiskey was gone. A dry farmer along the road had witnessed the ditching of the booze and as soon as the teamster drove off he went to the place with his wagon and loaded it up and now has about thirty cases of good whiskey that he says he intends to keep for his friends and will not sell any of it. He has made arrangements to see that it is placed in a safe place so that it will not be stolen.

Another lot of bootleggers had a shipment in Douglas and when they learned that Wheeler and Bowden were in town they disposed of it at reduced prices and left for El Paso.

Johnson, who was arrested, is at the present time under bond for the same offense and will have his trial soon. Murray has already served a term for introducing whiskey and will, no doubt, have another chance to work on the road. Johnson claimed to the officers that he received the whiskey on this side of the line but admitted that he had paid a man $10 to put the whiskey over on the Arizona side for him and that it cost him about $250.

HURRIED HOME TO VOTE FOR DIVIDEND

Henry Clay Frick at Palm Beach.

Henry Clay Frick, one of the big men of the steel corporation, left the golf links at Palm Beach a few days ago and hurried to New York to throw the weight of his influence with that of J. P. Morgan, in favor of a full five per cent steel dividend. Recently the company authorized an increase of ten per cent in the wages of its employees.

$9,000,000, PER POUND PRICE OF RADIUM

At Current Rate One Pound of the Rare Element Could be Sold for Fabulous Sum. Gram Brings $120,000.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—More than $9,000,000 a pound would be the price asked for radium were that quantity of the valuable metal available and for sale at one time. Late in 1915 there was sold in this country one one-tenth grams of radium (element) at the rate of $120,000 a gram, according to a report issued today by the United States Geological Survey. The entire output of the United States last year, however, was only 6 grams, or about 1-75 of a pound avoirdupois. The European was caused a great slump in the production of radium, as in 1914 there were 22.3 grams.

"The United States has the largest known radium-bearing deposits in the world," says the Geological Survey, "but the market for radium is mostly in Europe, for, although Americans like to feel that they are sufficiently progressive to take hold and use to the full new discoveries, inventions, and processes, yet the European municipalities and hospitals have been buying and utilizing most of the radium produced. When the war began, therefore, causing European money to flow into other channels, the demand for radium fell off so greatly that there was practically no market for radium or uranium ores in the early part of 1915, and very little market during any part of the year."

As a result of the collapse of the radium market, mining of radium-bearing ores except for such work as was necessary to hold claims, was nearly stopped. Through the efforts of the experts of the United States Bureau of Mines a process has been developed by which radium has been produced at a cost of $37,559 a gram. The principle fields of the radium-bearing ores are in Colorado and Utah.

PASTOR HELD FOR CRIME AGAINST GIRL

Five Counts Alleging Statutory Offense Returned Against Clergyman of Chicago, Cal. by 15 Year Old Girl.

PARENTS REPUDIATE CHARGE OF DAUGHTER

Minister Alleges Conspiracy As Revenge for His Activity in Temperance Campaign. Girl Held.

OROVILLE, Calif., Jan. 31.—Madison Slaughter of Chico, a minister, was indicted by the county grand jury of five separate counts each alleging a statutory offense against Gertrude Lamson, aged fifteen, whose parents are members of Slaughter's congregation. The indictments were returned despite the testimony of the girl's parents that their daughter's charges were untrue. A bench warrant for the arrest of the minister was returned immediately after the indictments returned.

Early in the day the district attorney was taken to task by the court for removing the girl from the custody of her parents without the usual process of law. The district attorney replied that he thought immediate action was necessary because he feared an attempt would be made to influence her testimony. The court restored the girl to her parents but a charge of delinquency was lodged against her by the district attorney. She has been held in the county detention home. Slaughter said the case was the result of a conspiracy against him because his activity in the temperance campaign. Lamson and his wife said it was at their request that the minister interested himself in the girl that she might have the benefit of his helpful influence.

SWEDEN DRIFTING TOWARD WAR WITH ENGLAND; BLOCKADE CAUSES FRICTION

Map of Sweden, showing her shrinking territory and her difficulty of invading Russia across Finland.

Great Britain's firm resolve to extend her blockade of Germany and Austria in such a fashion as to prevent any contraband from reaching them either directly or indirectly bids fair, according to present appearances, to bring Sweden into the war on the side of the central powers before many weeks are past.

TURKS RETREAT TO ERZERUM FORTRESS

Asiatic Turkey, in the Neighborhood of Lake Van is Cleared of Defenders by the Russians; Many Captured.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—After having driven the Turks from a region about forty miles in length in Asiatic Turkey to the west of Lake Van and put them in retreat down the Mush Valley. The Russians seemingly have ceased operations in this particular vicinity for the winter. A large number of prisoners were taken by the Russians during the drive, also heavy guns, machine guns and other war material. The Italians and Austrians are engaged in a fierce artillery duel along the Isonzo River front.

The Russian official communication confirms the previous statement that the Turks had been driven into their fortifications at Erzerum. There has been little fighting on the other fronts except by artillery. The German positions at Steenstreete, to the south of Rode and to the north of St. Mihiel, have come under the guns of the Allies on the western line. Considerable damage has been done.

The last French communication does not mention the fighting in the vicinity of Neuville or south of Somme, where positions were recently captured by the Germans. Berlin reports say the positions were held against repeated attacks.

From the northeast of Riga to the middle Stripa there has been a considerable bombardment by the Germans of various Russian towns and positions. Petrograd reports the surrounding by Russians of an Austrian detachment in the middle Stripa and the annihilation of most of the Austrians the remainder being captured.

YUMA DANGER FROM FLOOD WATERS OVER

Experts Think Crisis Passed for the Present; New Records for Quantity and Velocity of Water.

SAN DIEGO LOOTERS CAPTURED BY MINERS

Food Shortage in Otay Valley Near Relief; Heavy Damage to Important Highway. Sensational Escape.

YUMA, Jan. 31.—The Colorado River reached its crest at thirty and five-tenths feet. It has been stationary since noon. Reclamation officials and citizens who have been battling against the new flood menace believed the danger, for the present has been averted. Water measurements taken today established new records for quantity and velocity.

At one stage of the work Hydrographer Coile had a narrow escape from being carried away by the flood. He was forced to cut loose from both his weight and meter to save himself. The weather is clear and cold. Indications point to fair weather tomorrow. A report from the Imperial Valley Irrigation System says the break there is now more than two thousand feet long. A report from the Volcano Lake levee, where most of the water was released by this break flowing, stated no indication of weakness is there.

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 31.—The United States marines are reported to have caught four white men looting the Otay Valley. Two were lodged with civil authorities while the others were driven from the district at the point of a bayonet. Sheriff Conkili returned from the Otay and Tia Juana valleys reporting the services of himself and his deputies were not needed as the naval forces were ample to cope with any emergency. It is declared the belief that armed Mexicans were engaged in looting was exaggerated. No further casualties were reported with no more identifications. There was a marked diminution in the amount of wreckage and debris in San Diego bay.

An impaired water system caused the city council to make arrangements with a private water concern. The nine line break and clogged conduits shut off the supply from the Morena and Upper Otay reservoirs. The Chamber of Commerce committee continues relief work in conjunction with the naval authorities while the city officials discussed the rebuilding of the lower Otay dam.

The Chamber of Commerce committee announced $100,000 was needed. The fund is now $20,000. County Superintendent West recommended to the trustees of schools affected in the district that they be closed for a month when it is believed the roads will be reopened. The food shortage will be relieved tomorrow with the arrival of steamers bringing belated shipments of food and vegetables. The Santa Fe reported it would take three weeks to repair the line to Los Angeles, owing to several bridge washouts. Several extra vessels will make regular runs to San Diego, eliminating the northern runs until the railways are reopened.

The report of heavy damage sustained to the Potrero and Cottonwood grades, which form the more important links in the highway connecting San Diego with Imperial Valley, thru slides of earth and rocks due to, torrential rains over almost the entire length were brought here by Edward Prince, an automobile stage driver. A serious shortage of foodstuffs in inland settlements, along the roads, is reported by storekeepers, Prince said. They are conserving their supplies by limiting the sales in the hope they will not exhaust their stock before new supplies arrive. Prince arrived after two days' travel by burro.

He was forced to make a detour over high ridges and at other times through low places where he either waded or swam swollen streams. He (Continued on Page 6)
